Swing frame for explorers

Our Explore series has a selection of swing frames to suit every need. All the Explore models feature painted frames and a decorative gable element that matches the Explore series' themed universe and which stimulates role-play and imagination.

One of the benefits of swinging is that it helps children to better regulate sensory inputs and impacts. When swinging back and forth, they practise adapting to different sensory impressions from the outside world. This can help improve concentration, as it trains the children's ability to ignore unwanted inputs, such as classroom noise.

Modular swing frame

A modular swing frame makes it possible for several children to swing at the same time. In addition, the modular swing frame is available in several different combinations, which can be tailored to specific age groups or span a wide age group depending on which seats are chosen.

The swing frame is supplied without a seat, which gives you the freedom to buy one of our four different seats.

Why choose LEDON Explore?

- Low-maintenance play equipment in natural colours.
- In particular, it challenges and stimulates children's social skills, motor skills and balance.
- The play systems come in a wide range of sizes and price classes to suit every need.
- A theme world that arouses children's natural interest in experiencing and exploring the world.
